What is Cellulean about?

Cellulean is a natural and pharmaceutical slimming serum cream that is applied topically twice a day to the effected areas and it is the only verified solution for effective cellulite reduction. Cellulite is caused by the weakening of connective tissue in the subcutaneous layer of skin. When the connective tissue is weakened, trapped fat cells are allowed to be pushed upward, creating the "cottage cheese" or "orange peel" effect. This is why women of all body types can be effected by cellulite because it is not caused by body weight, it is caused by the deterioration of the skin cells and connective tissues. This weakening can be cause by a number of factors such as, aging, the environment and dehydration.

But How Does Cellulean Work?

The main ingredient contained in Cellulean that aids in the reduction of the fat cells under the skin which cause of the appearance of cellulite is Aminophylline. Aminophylline was discover years ago accidentally during asthma trials. Aminophylline works by shrinking these trapped fat cells that are pushed to the surface when the connective tissue is weakened by causing them to release lipid fat particles. This leaves the surface skin looking and feeling smooth and firm.

Along with aminophylline, Cellulean uses natural ingredients that includes minerals and herbs so that when it is applied topically the aminophylline is absorbed deeply into the skin to promote collagen while at the same time reducing the fat cells below the skin.

Who is Cellulean most suited for?

Since women of all body types and ages are effected by cellulite Cellulean is perfect for women who desire an inexpensive and hassle free way to reduce the effects of cellulite. Cellulite typically has four stages in its development.

Stage 1: The very beginning of cellulite, when it is still not visible from the outside.

Stage 2: Minimal orange peel texture visible when pinched.

Stage 3: Significant orange peel texture visible by pinching.

Stage 4: Cellulite is always visible.

Ideally women should begin to use Cellulean as soon as they discover cellulite, normally around stage two while it is still in its infancy. However it will still reduce the appearance of cellulite at the later stages.
